

WHITEHALL LANE

HISTORY

This small, family owned winery in Napa Valley's historic Rutherford appellation was founded in 1979, but the history of the vineyards dates back two centuries. In 1993, the Leonardini Family of San Francisco purchased the Whitehall Lane estate, updated the winemaking, instituted a new barrel-aging program, and continued sourcing the finest vineyards. They now own and farm six prime valley-floor vineyards that are the cornerstone on which the wines are made. These Napa Valley properties are spectacular and produce grapes that are exquisitely balanced and loaded with true varietal flavors.

CURRENT OFFERINGS:

2017 SAUVIGNON BLANC, Rutherford

84% Sauvignon Blanc, 16% Semillon

Very ripe style, with a small portion barrel fermented "on the lees" for a hint of toasty oak. Great by the glass! Crisp and refreshing.

WINEMAKER JASON MOULTON

A new winemaking chapter began at Whitehall Lane Winery in 2016 with Jason Moulton taking the reins. He was most excited by the prospect of working with the Leonardini Family's 150 acres of vineyards and taking the wines to new heights. "I started my winemaking career in Rutherford and now I am excited to be back in Rutherford," Moulton said when interviewed in 2016. "I've learned a great deal working with some fantastic people over the last decade and really look forward to utilizing what I've learned to bring the best out of Whitehall Lane's vineyards."
