

WHITEHALL LANE

NAPA VALLEY

THE LEONARDINI FAMILY This small, family owned winery in Napa Valley's historic Rutherford appellation was founded in 1979. In 1993, the Leonardini Family of San Francisco and Saint Helena purchased the Whitehall Lane estate. Winemaking practices have evolved, state-of-the-art technology has been implemented, and a new barrel-aging program has been instituted. Second and third generations are now also contributing to the success of the winery and vineyards.

THE VINEYARDS Whitehall Lane owns and operates six prime Napa Valley vineyards that are the cornerstone on which all of the wines are made. Five of the vineyards are situated on the floor of the Napa Valley, primarily in the Rutherford sub-appellation. The soils tend to have gravel and the rootstocks, grape varieties and clones have been selected for each specific block in every vineyard. The sixth vineyard is nestled at the base of the eastern hills in Saint Helena and also offers world class Cabernet Sauvignon. The seventh vineyard, planted to Cabernet Sauvignon, sits on the eastern slope of the Mayacamas Mountain range in Sonoma Valley, while the eighth vineyard in the Petaluma Gap AVA is planted to Pinot Noir. The winery utilizes modern viticulture science in the vineyards to grow the best grapes possible.
